

Observations about Software Processes

Completed projects should look like the Waterfall Model
but ... the development process is always partly evolutionary.

Risk is lowered by:

- ◆ Prototyping key components
- ◆ Dividing into phases
- ◆ Following a visible software process
- ◆ Making use of reusable components

